TRATTORIA SPAGHETTO IN VOORHEES IMPRESSIVE, ADDED TO THE BEST LIST

We asked John Amaru if the name Trattoria Spaghetti gave off the wrong vibe, telling customers perhaps that his one year old restaurant in the shopping center at Centennial Boulevard in Voorhees was just a pasta house. He shrugged and said "once they taste my food."

He was right.

On two visits, food was superb, possessing a special quality we only see in a few restaurants, inspiring superlatives.

Try the osso bucco. We were asked if we wanted it over risotto or pasta. Delicious. (Ed closes his eyes out of respect as he says that.) Veal sorrentino possessed quality ingredients and delicious sauce. Another superb entrée.

Broccoli rabe and sausage appetizer was also superb.

Delicious hot bread. Fresh crisp salad. Fresh made delicious soups. We're adding Trattoria Spaghetti to the excellence list.
